Comments from the Monarch coaching staff:

Thought we wrestled really well today - it was really a night and day difference compared to our last outing on Tuesday. We managed to take fifth as a team without three varsity starters, and that was due to our girls wrestling well throughout the day.

Giana Garcia and Andrea Alcaraz reached the finals and we had five girls - Daniela Salinas, Addison Ransom, Yarecze Rodriguez, Miranda Estrada, and Gracen Plagge - all reach the third place match. We challenged our girls to not have a slow start. They responded and kept some of that momentum going throughout the day. There truly are positives that we can take away from every girl's performances today. Daniela Salinas day. There are positives that we can take away from every girls performance today. Barbara Camacho won an overtime match to finish third. Addison Ransom wrestled as well as we'd ever seen her wrestle. Marisol Granados didn't make the podium but she went 2-2 on the day and looked like she's turned a corner in both of her wins. We're so proud of Yarecze coming back after a brutal season-ending injury last year and being a leader on the team - a third place finish today was a great outcome and she's starting to get her spark back. Andrea bounced back from some tough luck on opening night by placing 2nd today - she will right the ship and continue to contribute.

We were also able to take some girls that may not quite be varsity caliber yet, but it was a good learning experience and they were able to get the feel for the varsity feel of competition. We're hoping that will pay off in the future for those freshmen and sophomores. Wrestling in your first varsity meet can be overwhelming for those beginner wrestlers, but they rolled with the punches and stayed positive throughout the day.

We still have a lot of work to do, but the trajectory is trending up after a tough opening night. We're excited to head to Council Bluffs on Monday with a nearly full lineup and see where we're at heading into Thanksgiving break.
